Linda Hermens is an artist, crafter, and maker. She's a multidisciplinary creative working in sculpture, fibre arts, crafts, wood and anything else she is inspired by. She recently added painting and drawing to her repertoire. Linda is heavily influenced by her love for nature and the commitment to create things that remind us of how we are intertwined with it.

Based in Axedale, Linda is also a building consultant. Both her art and building guidance are informed by her experience as a family person and previous work in social welfare, recreation, landscaping and building design.

If you'd like to obtain a piece of Linda's artwork or utilise her consulting services, she can be contacted by phone or you can follow her on Instagram to see her latest artwork.
