Kellie McAllister's A&M Creative is about texture and colour, best known for resembling petals, gardens and all that this encompasses. She finds inspiration from nature and palettes that stand out in a passing garden or landscape.

Not only does she create her signature pieces that are constantly evolving and changing, but also collaborates with clients to create commission pieces of a certain colour palette or style they have envisaged. She is a self-taught artist and enjoys art as a creative outlet in between being a stay-at-home mum to two beautiful girls.

Kellie loves creating pieces that brighten up a space and bring light and colour into a home.
